ATTORNEY PROFILE

Lauren Arndorfer is an associate in the Business and Finance Department. She earned her Juris Doctor with distinction from the University of Iowa College of Law, which she attended on a full-tuition merit scholarship. While there, Lauren was organizationally active, serving as Editor-in-Chief of Transnational Law and Contemporary Problems, Iowa's International Law Journal, and qualifying for the national Baskerville moot court team. During her third year of law school, Lauren completed a legal externship at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, where she worked on transactional and health care matters.

Prior to law school, Lauren worked in crisis communications and media relations, where she managed public perception following litigation, mergers, and other business transactions for Fortune 500 companies, academic institutions, and tech start-ups. Lauren is a cum laude graduate of Drake University, where she received Bachelor of Arts degrees, with full departmental honors, in both English and journalism and mass communication.
