Seattle Immigration Team Joins Karr Tuttle Campbell

SEATTLE, WA – We are pleased to announce that the immigration team of Orbit Law has joined Karr Tuttle Campbell (KTC), effective September 1, 2022.

Attorney Kripa Upadhyay, founder and managing partner of Orbit Law has joined KTC as a shareholder, along with attorney Eileen K. DaPra, and paralegal Candy Gallegos, will augment KTC's existing immigration practice.

Established in 2011, Orbit Law will close its doors effective December 31, 2022. Orbit attorneys and paralegal will continue their immigration practices in the downtown Seattle offices of KTC. This transition will greatly benefit Orbit Law's existing clients, with access to the varied skills and resources of other KTC attorneys, who offer a full range of legal services. KTC and the new immigration team will work collaboratively to best meet the needs of the combined firms' existing and prospective clients. This joining of forces will allow the collective immigration team to provide a more comprehensive and robust suite of services.

J. Dino Vasquez, President of KTC expressed, "Prior to Kripa's group joining KTC, our immigration lawyers represented the immigration needs of our clients through our business and litigation services. Now, with this combined extraordinary team of professionals, and their impressive level of experience, our united synergy allows us to offer an even deeper and broader range of immigration solutions."

Experience in Immigration areas pertaining to Corporate Based Immigration; Investor Based Immigration; Family based Immigration and guiding exceptionally skilled individuals through their Immigration processes all provided through Orbit Law, will now be fully integrated with KTC's services. In addition, Kripa and her team also bring an increased number of foreign languages to KTC. This includes fluency in Hindi, Korean; Nepali, Urdu and Spanish.

About Karr Tuttle Campbell

Established in 1904, KTC is one of Seattle's oldest full-service law firms, serving individuals, organizations, and leading businesses throughout the Pacific Northwest and beyond. Well into its second century of service, KTC remains committed to the long-standing traditions of providing client-focused legal services, keen strategy and innovation, meeting the challenges of a global marketplace, "greener" work practices, and supporting the communities in which all employees live and work. KTC has long been a proponent of diversity, equity, and inclusion, dating back to 1936 when it hired one of the first female senior partners of any major Seattle law firm. Today, we are dedicated to increasing firm diversity, and being a proud supporter of LGTBQ+ and gender equity. Learn more about the firm at www.karrtuttle.com.
