PRACTICE AREAS
Estate Planning & Trusts

John Poffenbarger heads Karr Tuttle Campbell's Trusts and Estates department. He concentrates his practice in the areas of estate and trust planning for individuals and business planning for privately-held companies.

He is experienced in a wide range of areas including wills and trusts, planning and formation of limited liability entities, estate and trust administration, generation skipping trusts and other advanced estate planning strategies, as well as business formations, shareholder and buy-sell agreements, and business succession planning. John also frequently handles estate and gift tax matters with the IRS.

He has been named one of Washington's best lawyers by Washington Law and Politics magazine and Super Lawyers magazine on multiple occasions. In addition, John has handled estate matters for some of the Seattle area's most prominent musicians, and in that connection has been interviewed by Rolling Stone magazine.

Prior to his legal career, John was a Tax Specialist with KPMG Peat Marwick.
